

2023-2024 Youth Board Advisors

Advisors on the youth board serve as exemplary figures in community service, guiding and empowering students to conceptualize, strategize, and execute their projects, fostering independence and readiness for future professional endeavors. These mentors actively contribute to the board by participating in monthly meetings, engaging in volunteer activities, supporting fundraisers, and attending community events. Additionally, they play a key role in the selection process for new youth board members, relying on valuable referrals from graduating members and faculty.

About Youth Board

Mission Statement: A collaboration of high school students, dedicated to motivating, mobilizing, and serving the community to make dreams a reality.

United Way of West Central Connecticut's Youth Board was established in the fall of 1998, spearheaded by then United Way Board Member Dr. Max Riley. The group consists of students and faculty advisors from each of our six area schools (Bristol, Burlington, Plainville, and Plymouth) which meet monthly to discuss the social and human service needs of the communities. The initial objective of the Youth Board was to assess the issues that impact youth and prioritize projects, specific to their needs, to formulate a plan to accomplish their goals and make the greatest impact.

By working TOGETHER, we empower our community, because no one person can do it alone.

How do I join Youth Board? School faculty refers students to Youth Board Advisors that have a desire to become involved in their community at a grassroots level. These students will work with Youth Board members to develop solutions, provide resources, and/or opportunities for changes in their community. To find out more information and the referral process, speak with the Youth Board Advisor in your school.

Throughout the academic year students not only run Youth Board Meetings but set the agenda of what they would like to accomplish that year.

By becoming a Youth Board member, students will:

- Help in their community
- Take part in fun community service projects
- Make new friends, in different towns
- Be a representative of their peers
- Discuss issues that affect teens
- Learn new skills such as leadership, communication, and collaboration

Youth Board Meetings

United Way of West Central Connecticut Youth Board meets monthly during the academic year. Meetings are the fourth Tuesday of the month at 7:00pm at the United Way office (440 North Main Street, Bristol).
